

The Water Pistol

I was walking down the hall when I got shot with a water pistol. I was a girl in the back row - next to the door.

I held out my hand - she said what I said you know what. She gave it to me and I emptied right in her face. Her eye make up was running down. (She never turned her face.)

The teacher was lecturing - he keep right on.

When I told him about it later on - he said he wondered what was going on
